

NOTHING PROVES YAH IS

Nothing proves there is a God because when we really think about it there is no such thing as nothing at all. I mean even nothing as something to it. An empty box looks empty but is it really empty? Well let's open the box and take a closer look and see what we find shall we?

At first glance the box looks empty but hold on not so fast there partner, the box may look empty but upon closer examination we can see all kinds of really cool stuff, like atoms and molecules, oxygen and fibers, we begin to see microscopic organisms, and sub atomic particles, and atoms, and even light and shadows.

Well if you ask me this empty box is full of really neat stuff. So now the fact that there really is no such thing as nothing proves there is a God because where did all of that stuff come from in the first place anyway?

Nothing proves the Great I Am is because of all of the things that make up nothing, there is nothing greater than the Great I AM of the universe, for HE IS WHAT HE IS, HE IS THE GOD OF ABRAHAM ISAAC AND JACOB Who has the power to make something out of nothing. He is the Father, Son & the Holy Spirit all in One and He loves each and everyone of us...Amen
