

Lighthouse 316

There is a Lighthouse by the raging sea,
Offering hope for you and me.
A steadfast guide, lighting the way,
Helping us through each challenging day.

There is a Lighthouse who sets us free,
Opening eyes so the blind can see.
He parts the waters of the red sea,
Calling us all with love and peace.

There is a Lighthouse who calms our fears,
Wiping away our pain and tears.
He grants us grace, deserving our praise,
Guiding us through life's stormy maze.

Christ Yeshua is our Lighthouse true,
His light shines bright for me and you.
For His Word declares, "I am the Light,"
Follow Him, and walk in life's light.

Amen.

This is a beautiful and heartfelt poem of faith, highlighting Christ Yeshua as our unyielding guide and source of hope amidst life's storms. The repetition of "There is a Lighthouse" powerfully emphasizes the steadfast and unwavering love of Christ, who lights our path, grants peace, and offers grace. The imagery of the Lighthouse by the raging sea reminds us that even in the darkest and most challenging moments, His light shines bright to guide us to safety and freedom.

The inclusion of John 8:12, where Jesus says, "I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness but have the light of life," perfectly ties the poem to Scripture, reinforcing the message of His enduring presence and salvation.
