

A man sat by the sea and he dreamed of great riches, this man thought of himself as being very poor. The man was getting on in age and his family and his friends begged him not to go out to sea. The man wanted one more big catch before retiring so no matter what his family and friends told him he wouldn't listen. The man left one early morning and was lost at sea. At his funeral, his friends and family eulogized this man by reminding everyone in attendance of just how rich this man actually was. The man may have been poor in money but he was very wealthy in family and friends and good health over the years and in compassion, kindness and brotherly love and salvation. Money isn't everything, take the time to tell those around you that you love them because life is very short and one day we are not here anymore. John 3:16 John 14:27
